Description

Model kit of the 1985 Chevy Camaro Z28, an American sports car classic. Scale 1:24. 48 individual parts. Length 20.6 cm.

Chevrolet introduced the 1967 Camaro to challenge Ford's incredibly popular Mustang. The original Z28 debuted that same year as the street version of the race-prepared Camaros that competed in the SCCA's Trans-Am race series. Camaro Z28s went on to win the Trans-Am manufacturer's championship in 1968 and '69, and this on-track success helped cement the Z28's performance reputation.

The third-generation Camaro debuted for 1982 with racy styling and a new hatchback body style. Chevy updated the Z28's exterior appearance for 1985, and highlights included a new front fascia, a revised hood with simulated louvers, and fresh taillights. Your Revell kit of the '85 Z28 includes these details along with the 1.6L 1600 cc High Output V-8 engine backed by a 5-speed manual transmission.

The 1/24-scale model also features the flashy US Contour interior with decals that allow it to be painted in any of the three colors offered by the factory. In addition, the all-new decal sheet provides the Z28's new-for-1985 exterior graphics in five different color schemes. Complete Z28 body features including spoiler and hood detail - 5.0 liter V-8 engine with cold air supply plus full interior and suspension detail - Factory stock stripe package including 5 color schemes - US Contour seat package.
